

Norms & Protocol

To develop a better coding culture.

Organise coding competitions and hackathons.

Encourage students to participate in various coding competitions happening all around.

Promoting various domains of programming and design.

To promote peer learning.

To encourage contributions to non-profit and open source communities.

Understanding and working of global forums(Like stack Overflow)

Guide All sorts of students towards competitive programming and help them improve their coding skills.